

COURSES

ENSP-NOVA offers post-graduate teaching

PHD

Public health
Global Public Health
(Partnership with NMS, IHMT and FM UPorto)
Dynamics of Health and Welfare
(Erasmus Mundus jointly with EHESS-Paris, U Linkoping and U Évora)

MASTERS

Public Health
Health Management
Occupational Health
Health Promotion
Physiotherapy
(Partnership with NMS and IP Setúbal)
Clinical Research Management
(Partnership with U Aveiro, NMS and NOVA IMS)

SPECIALIZATIONS | POSTGRADUATE COURSES

Hospital Administration
Public Health
Occupational Health
Quality in Patient Health and Safety

Additionally, ENSP-NOVA also offers Short Term Courses that can be costume design to deepen and update specific skills for specific individual or institutional needs.

CONTACTS

Avenida Padre Cruz
1600-560 Lisboa

+351 21 751 21 00 / 20 / 21
geral@ensp.unl.pt

www.ensp.unl.pt

National School
of Public Health
NOVA UNIVERSITY LISBON

National School
of Public Health
NOVA UNIVERSITY LISBON

NOVA NATIONAL SCHOOL OF PUBLIC HEALTH

ABOUT NOVA NATIONAL SCHOOL OF PUBLIC HEALTH

- Pioneer institution in Public Health and health management teaching in Portugal and Europe, with programs adapted to the new challenges and opportunities of Public Health.
- Experienced and competent faculty, with a prominent place in the Portuguese health system.
- Personalized treatment and student-centered teaching.
- Producer of nationally and internationally recognized research oriented to the resolution of problems in the fields of health and health care.
- Centre of excellence in teaching and training in Public Health.
- Reference university institution in the design, development and evaluation of the Portuguese health system.
- Broad network of national and international partnerships.
- Provides relevant services to the community, with private and public institutions, through the resolution of concrete problems of the citizens health and the promotion of "global health".

PUBLIC HEALTH RESEARCH CENTER

Public Health Research Center (PHRC /CISP) is the first research center recognized by the Foundation for Science and Technology (FCT) exclusively dedicated to Public Health.

Its mission is to carry out, develop and promote public health research, in order to create knowledge that can be used to improve the population health.

www.cisp.ensp.unl.pt

INTERNATIONALIZATION

Participation in mobility programs for students, faculty and staff, with the aim to exchange experiences and transfer acquired knowledge.

- Erasmus+ Program in Europe
- Training exchange in the Portuguese speaking countries
- International Consortium research projects

58

Foreign students

27

Nationalities

44

ECTS available in English

25%

of own revenues from international sources

EMPLOYABILITY

Strong and positive acceptance of ENSP-NOVA programs by employers, representing, for the students, a timely return on the investment made in their training, in terms of employability, increase in remuneration and professional category change.

More than 90% of employability rate for Master students, one year after the conclusion of the programme.

