

Teresa Magalhães, PhD in Public Health, is an exclusive Professor at the National School of Public Health of Nova University of Lisbon and coordinator of the Digital Health Summer Course.

Coordinates the disciplines of Health Information Management of the Master's Courses in Health Management and Specialization in Hospital Administration and Health Information Systems of the Specialization Course in Public Health. Also is responsible for the optional discipline of Hospital Technologies and Equipment's.

She has worked in recent years in the research and promotion of digital health, having in her curriculum several projects in the area.

She is coordinator of the APAH Information Management Working Group.

She is a member of the Comprehensive Health Research Center (CHRC) of the Nova University of Lisbon.

She is a member of the EHMA Scientific Advisory Committee.

She is a member of the Innovation and Value Council and the Sustainability Council of the Nova University of Lisbon.

She is Hospital Administrator having worked over the last years in particular as CEO of the Red Cross Hospital, Board Member of the Hospital Center of Setúbal, Advisor for Innovation at the Hospital Center of Lisbon Norte (CHLN) and Administrator of the Departments of Heart and Vessels and Pediatrics of CHLN.