

Filipe Freitas Pinto is a Medical Doctor specialized in Psychiatry and Mental Health. Works as Chief Medical Officer at knokcare, being part of its founding team and having also been the Medical Director and Country Manager for Portugal since 2015. Manages a team of more than 250 doctors and designs/implements digital health programs for primary care. Has an important experience in regulatory clinical research, in the roles of Research Physician and Principal Investigator for early-phase studies for new medicines. Since 2016 has taken part in more than 120 clinical trials with BlueClinical. Has been the head of Medical Writing at BlueClinical since January 2019 and presently occupies the role of Director of Business Development and Medical Writing. Is also a frequent lecturer in the subjects of Digital Health in the context of post-graduation courses. Is a Ph.D. student in Neurosciences at the Faculty of Medicine of the University of Porto.